REVIEWS

92 POINTS | Halliday Wine Companion - Marcus Ellis - February 2024

"From a range of sites of varied geology, this was fermented in open concrete vats with indigenous yeast, elevage in French oak puncheons and hogsheads. From a cool year, there's notable elegance to this, though the fruits are both red and black - dark cherry and plum, blackberry, raspberry - accented with a tarry, cherry note, master stock spices, mint, cacao nibs and cracked earth and iron-like mineral notes. it over-delivers at this tariff."

90 POINTS | The Real Review - Aaron Brasher - July 2024

"Heady aromas of stewed plum, pudding spice, mocha, dried herbs and liqueur chocolates. Juicy, plush and with a drive of black fruits, creamy oak and a brambly earthiness. The tannins are shapely and the acidity brings plenty of life to the finish."

92 POINTS | Natalie MacLean | November 2024

"From McLaren Vale, South Australia, Angove Family Crest 2021 Shiraz is great value at $20. Dry, medium-plus-bodied and vibrant with juicy dark cherry, raspberry, smoky vanilla, pepper and baking spice flavours layed and muxurious on the palate with a lingering dark chocolate finish, tannins are velvety on this beautifully crafted Shiraz. Enjoy it now through 2027 with a roast leg of lamb."
