REVIEWS

Wine Enthusiast Magazine - Christina Pickard - March 2022 - 92 Points

Review: "Angove's most premium wine, which receives extended time in the bottle before being released, is a big yet well-structured wine. High-toned raspberry and cherry fruit are laced with savory spice, mocha, licorice and a roasted beetroot note. The palate sees concentrated fruit neatly cinched by powerful, well-placed tannins. Amid the muscle, some freshness and elegance peaks through the cracks. Needs plenty of decanting now but will reward a few more years in the bottle until 2035 or so."

James Halliday Wine Companion 2021 - Top 100 - 98 Points

"Disciplined attention to detail has produced a perfectly balanced medium to full-bodied palate that has supple, juicy and smooth plum and blackberry fruit with a hint of dark chocolate, integrated cedary oak and built-in tannins. It sings from start to finish. Drink to 2042, screwcap, 14.5% alc"

Wine Business Monthly - Tyson Stelzer - June 2021 - 94 Points

"Cool season intrigue, spicy, complex, even gamey and meaty. Dark berry fruits and exotic spice are backed with poise and tang of cool season acidity and fine grained tannins. An impressive expression of the season, with a long life before it."
